Re: Universitas v. Nova

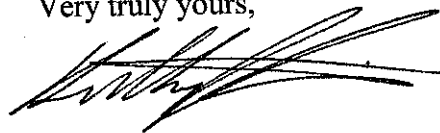

Dear Mr. Barnett:

As you are aware, Mr. Carpenter's circumstances have changed in his criminal cases. He and I have therefore been in further consultation with his various criminal counsel.

Mr. Carpenter has decided to invoke his rights against self-incrimination with respect to your requests for discovery in the civil matter before Judge Swain.

I trust you will accord me the same courtesy shown to Mr. Bursey's attorney so that we can memorialize the scope of this invocation by letter.

Very truly yours,
